automation vs Automation

Why Automation?

Humans Do Not Scale Well

Consistency Matters

A grayscale close-up photograph showing a person's hands resting on a desk. The hands belong to someone wearing glasses, which are visible in the foreground. A computer mouse is positioned between the hands. The background is slightly blurred, focusing on the hands and the mouse.

- Jeffrey Snover, Arrested DevOps Podcast, Feb 12th, 2015
